

JOSH &

dear friend,

Thank you for taking the time to learn about our family. We want you to know how much we admire your courage and generosity as you consider what is best for your baby. Regardless of whether we are selected to be adoptive parents for your child we want to thank you for considering us as adoptive parents for your baby. This is undoubtedly one of the most difficult decisions you will ever make. We want you to be assured that if you choose our family for your child, he/she will be welcomed into a loving and joyful home.

From the beginning of our relationship, we have always had a desire to adopt children. If chosen, know that we will provide a stable and loving environment for your child. We are both adventurous and love traveling and would be happy to share our lives with you and your child.

With Love,

JOSH &

OUR STORY

Technology led us to each other. We met online and after several conversations we decided to meet in person. We met at a local wine bar and we had a great time talking by the fire. While we were dating we shared some of our favorite activities: going on hikes, playing board games, visiting with family and friends, going to shows, going to Church together and participating in community activities and outreach. We have continued with all of these activities during our three years of marriage. We've also enjoyed traveling together while showing each other our favorite places and exploring new adventures together!

Our faith is an essential part of our life. We believe that our life, which has been given to us by God is a blessing and that God wants us to share that love in our family and with all who meet on our journey. We hope to share the joys of loving God and embracing the beautiful plan that He has for our lives with the little one who joins our family. Our life of faith is filled with hope and joy that permeates our daily decisions and that is based on gratefulness for all that God has given us.

About by Josh Cara

When I first met Cara, I was immediately drawn to her confidence, which undoubtedly comes from her life experiences helping others. Her kind and nurturing nature was easy to recognize from day one. Cara is also one of the most adventurous people I know. She has traveled extensively and has lived in several countries outside of the US. Her loving and accepting personality has led to many friendships from all over the world. Did I mention she is bilingual and gets compliments on her ability to speak Spanish from many of our native Spanish speaking friends?

Cara is very devoted to her family and friends and this shows in her capacity to continue the close relationships that she has made throughout life and across the globe. Teaching came naturally to Cara and little ones and not so little ones are drawn to Cara's joyful spirit. I could not think of a better person to teach and raise our future children than Cara.

Josh is my favorite person! I am so blessed to have found him and to be on the adventure of life with him. Josh has a quiet demeanor that draws people to him and when he says what is on his mind people stop and listen. Josh is always up for an adventure - loves to travel, read, and his scientific mind likes discovering how something works.

Kids are naturally drawn to Josh and love when he spends time with them. We often talk with our niece and nephews on Facetime and they always love when Josh appears! Josh has a great sense of humor and has me laughing all the time. He catches you off guard with his quick witty comments and playful spirit. Josh is generous with his family and friends and always open to hearing another perspective. I am grateful for his openness to hearing and considering what others think. Josh will make a great father!

“Josh is a man of strength and kindness.”
