HELLO THERE

If you decide adoption is the path you will take for you and your child, we hope that you will consider us to love your child infinitely and for eternity. We will raise your child and they will know the huge sacrifice you made for them and that you unconditionally love them.

Our profile is only a glimpse of who we are. We hope that through the story of us you will come to know the love and support we have for each other, our desire to grow our family through adoption and the love and care we will give to your child for forever.

We have so much love to give and cannot wait to grow our family through adoption. We look forward to getting to know you and having you as a part of our life forever, if that is what you desire.

With love,

Nick & Rachel

MEET RACHEL

in Nick's words

Rachel is known by our family and friends as the motherly one. She is selfless, loves all unconditionally and always looks out for others. I know she will be a wonderful mother and I cannot wait to watch her raise our future children.

Rachel is passionate about her work and helping others. She is the glue that holds our family together not only because she is kind and compassionate but because she is also very organized and manages the details of our life so flawlessly.

OUR EXTENDED FAMILY AND FRIENDS

in Rachel's words

I come from a tight knit family, where I am the oldest of 2 children with a younger brother. I have many childhood memories including growing up on a hobby farm with chickens, sheep, dogs and cats; traveling to the ocean many times and spending lots of time baking with my mom. I also grew up with many fun holiday traditions including hosting the annual Easter egg hunt with hundreds of eggs, to Christmas Eve with my mom's side where we sing Christmas carols and tell stories. We have been fortunate to do a lot of traveling with my family from beach vacations to touring new cities. We are less than 30 minutes from both my parents and brother now, which gives us the ability to see each other very frequently. We enjoy family dinners, swimming at my parents in the summer and walks around the neighborhood.

in Nick's words

I come from a large family, where I am the second of four children. My oldest sister was adopted from Korea, I have a younger brother only 16 months younger and another younger sister. Growing up, my mom stayed home with us while my dad had a long career with a big local company. We have many memories of creating home videos, of which we still have and frequently watch during the holidays. I also have many fond memories of pool parties with friends and family. Family dinner was a priority every night where we talked about everyone's highs and lows of the day. My parents have always been our number one fans and supported me throughout my entire life. Today we live within one hour of my parents and siblings which we take advantage of getting together for birthdays, holidays and impromptu dinner nights.

We are fortunate for the most amazing group of friends that have become family. We enjoy traveling, visiting the cabin, trying out the new local restaurant and hanging out with our friends. Our friends challenge us to be the best people we can be and we continue to grow in life through these friendships. It has been exciting to watch our friends become parents and they are all looking forward to watch us become parents as well.

WHY WE ARE CHOOSING ADOPTION

We have always known we have wanted children someday and we are now ready more than ever to become parents. After learning that we would not be able to have children biologically we knew that adoption was the path we were meant to take. Adoption has also always been near to our hearts as Nick's older sister is adopted. We know that family goes far beyond genetics and love is what makes a family.

We promise

- To love our child unconditionally, no matter what
- Our child will know you and the sacrifice you made for them
- To provide opportunities to grow into who they want to be
- To ensure they know the values of treating others with respect
- To show them the importance of serving others through service in the community
- To have them learn about diversity and culture
